Soil Men Hear Flood Control Chief

"Land—Water—People are the features of a successful watershed program," remarked C. D. Luttrell, Ky. Division of Flood Control. He spoke to watershed directors and soil conservation district supervisors in East Fork Clark River Watershed at Bennington Monday, June 16. Twenty-eight conservation leaders from Calloway, Graves, Marshall, McCracken counties and Henry County Tennessee attended.

"The Conservancy District Board on East Fork has certain definite administrative problems," advised Mr. Luttrell. 1. They must identify all farms in the watershed. 2. They must obtain operating capital to conduct the local watershed program. 3. Necessary legal and clerical personnel need to be arranged for. 4. Local community leadership needs to be activated. "This will be a local program with Federal help, not a Federal program with local help."

"There are also definite physical problems in East Fork Watershed that lend themselves to local action and some things the Watershed leaders CAN DO. 1. It can develop the watershed for agricultural uses. 2. It may in addition develop the watershed so that water may be available for municipal, recreational, and industrial uses."

"There are certain things the Watershed people MUST DO: 1. Agree on a WS Plan. 2. Let contracts for structures. 3. Secure easements for structures. 4. Get farm land stabilized above proposed flood control structures. 5. Prove ability to maintain and operate structures. 6. Inform land owners of their responsibilities. 7. Hire personnel to help develop any non-agricultural water. Have a definite plan for repaying any borrowed money."

"The biggest job Watershed Directors have is to not overlook an opportunity to develop the full potential of the water within East Fork Clark River Watershed," summarized Mr. Luttrell. A watershed planning party is expected to move into this area after July 15 and a watershed work plan should be completed by this time next year on East Fork.

Salvation Army Reaches Quarter Of Its Goal

The Salvation Army has already reached better than one-fourth of its goal, according to Ernie Thompson, district supervisor. Those who have not contributed are urged to give as they are contacted by workers.

Those who are not contacted are asked to send their donations to Glen Doran, treasurer, Peoples Bank, or Allen Rose at the Bank of Murray.

All support will be appreciated, Thompson said, no matter what the amount.

Singing Planned At County Church

The Welsh Seniors of Paducah will sing at the Mt. Herod Baptist Church June 22 beginning at 3:00 in the afternoon. The public is invited.

Rev. J. A. Hodge is pastor and Sister Geneva Kendall, secretary.

Southwest Kentucky — Partly cloudy and a little warmer today, tonight and Friday with widely scattered thunderstorms likely in afternoon or night today and Friday. High today and Friday in low 80s, low tonight low to mid-60s.

Some 3:30 a.m. temperatures: Louisville 66, Lexington 63, Paducah 70, Bowling Green 63, Covington 62, London 58 and Hopkinsville 65.

Patrolman Scorches Dayton City Council

DAYTON, Ky. (UPI) — A patrolman on the Dayton police force Wednesday scorching the City Council for turning down pay boosts because it said the departments.

The Council recently cut off pay boosts because it said the police were violating three rules. These were listed as: staying in the City Building more than 10 minutes at a time; taking the police cruiser out of the city; and failing to enforce traffic laws.

Patrolman George McClellan, a member of the force for six years fired back, saying: "We have only one cruiser serving a city of 10,000 citizens. Right now it is sitting across the street from the City Building and I am in the office. Why? Because the cruiser won't even start!"

"We are afraid to drive fast enough to catch anybody because the tires are baldheaded" with the intertubes showing through," McClellan added. "How can the Council say we are not enforcing traffic violations, when Mayor Carl Wenderoth himself was given a ticket for illegal parking in front of the City Building yesterday." Wenderoth paid a $5 fine.

Irwin Brooker, a fireman, resigned this week fuming that he "didn't think 88 cents an hour for 64 hours work week was quite enough money." He said his take-home pay was $62 a week.

Hearings Held In Local County Court

A hearing was held in the county judge's office this morning for Herbert Key on the charge of disturbing the peace. Key was found guilty and received a $10 fine and a five-day jail sentence which was suspended.

Yesterday a hearing was held for Dan Jones in connection with the disturbance at Hazel last week in which policeman W. C. Hicks fired on a car to "mark it."

Jones was fined a total of $87 and received a 30-day jail sentence which he is now serving.

Calvin Johnson, 15, who was also involved in the disturbance, was scheduled to appear but his hearing will be continued next Monday because he is now under a doctor's care.

The inspiration for John Howard Payne's song "Home Sweet Home" was a shingled cottage at East Hampton, Long Island, where he spent his boyhood. His song was part of an opera, "Clari, or the Maid of Milan."

BEEN AT IT A YEAR — At 29 months of age Raymond Judd, Jr., has been a cigar smoker for a year in his Louisville, Ky., home. His mother said he smokes an occasional cigar, and two cigarettes a day. "We never forbid him," she said. "He always puts his ashes in an ash tray." (UPI Telephoto)

SHE HELPED DESIGN IT — Florence Cain, one of the few women in the highly technical missile field, stands beside tail of the new Lockheed X-7 ramjet test missile she helped design in Van Nuys, Calif. The 27-foot X-7 was delivered to USAF a month ahead of schedule. It was developed to test latest in ramjet engines which will propel interceptor missiles. (UPI Telephoto)

Wilson Wyatt On Tour Of Capitol

FRANKFORT (UPI) — Wilson W. Wyatt, former mayor of Louisville and candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1959, invaded this stronghold of the state administration Wednesday for a tour of the Capitol.

He passed out "Wyatt for Governor" cards in the Capitol Annex Cafeteria to such stalwarts of the administration of Gov. A. B. Chandler as Conservation Commissioner Laben P. Jackson and Mrs. Ben S. Kilgore, director of state parks.

"My goodness, I couldn't take this — they'd kill me," Mrs. Kilgore laughed.

Wyatt told newsmen he was pleased with his campaign thus far, in which he has traveled to 50 counties.

He said he found a strong desire among Democrats to end the "get even" warfare between the two rival factions of the state Democratic Party.

Wyatt chatted with Shelby Circuit Judge Coleman Wright of Shelbyville, and the two joined attorney Joseph Leary of Frankfort at the cafeteria table.

Leary directed Chandler's successful 1955 campaign for governor.

"I'd always heard you were a courageous fellow, and now I'm convinced of it," Leary quipped.

Wyatt also "table-hopped" to other groups where state employees were lunching and handed out his campaign cards.

He was accompanied by Edward A. Parris, of Jamestown, his executive campaign secretary.

Wyatt, one of four candidates in next year's primary, was the first to announce his candidacy.

Bert T. Combs, Prestonsburg attorney, who was defeated by Chandler for the Democratic nomination in 1955, also has announced his candidacy along with H. B. R. C. Carpenter, Louisville, who has not yet campaigned actively.

Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield has promised to make a formal announcement of his candidacy by the end of this month. Waterfield, the choice of the state administration, last week sent out 75,000 letters to state Democratic leaders asking their advice on conducting his campaign.

Corporation Tax To Be Extended

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate was expected to complete action today on a bill to extend present corporation and excise tax rates for another year.

The administration and top Democratic leaders in Congress have agreed taxes should not be out. The measure is expected to win Senate approval. In the face of such opposition, Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) all but conceded defeat for his effort to amend the bill in order to repeal federal freight and passenger taxes.

Smathers, a member of the Senate Finance Committee, wanted to end the wartime transportation levies to help the nation's hard-pressed railroads. But he said his drive appeared to be "in great danger."

Other congressional developments:

Taxes: The Senate backed President Eisenhower's no-tax-cut policy by rejecting 65 to 23 a proposal to reduce personal, excise and corporation taxes by six billion dollars.

Foreign Aid: House — Senate conferees completed a bill authorizing $3,675,000,000 in foreign aid funds for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Stewards and Harbors: The House passed a $1,535,746,000 revised version of the river and harbors bill which President Eisenhower vetoed two months ago.

Defense: Sens. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) and Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) charged the administration's drive to reorganize the Defense Department already has deprived members of Congress of information they wanted from the separate services.

Labor: Speaker Sam Rayburn said House leaders will press for passage of the Senate's moderate labor reform bill but declined to comment on chances of passage. Prospects were not too bright.

Statehood: The House Interior Committee voted to delay action on the Hawaii statehood bill.

Hewlett Cooper To Work On Master's Degree

Hewlett Cooper, Health Educator, of the State Health Department, has just received word from the U.S. Public Health Service that the committee has approved his application for a traineeship. He also has already received his acceptance for admission from the University of Michigan.

Mr. Cooper has been area health educator for Western Kentucky for the past year and plans to receive his master's degree in public health at Michigan in a year. He received his B.S. and M.A. in Education from Murray State College. He had thirteen years experience as teacher, coach, and principal before accepting the position with the State Health Department.

Cooper served three years in the Armed Forces with overseas service during World War II and is married to the former Dorothy Adams and they have four children. Mr. Cooper plans to enter the University of Michigan this fall.

Public Invited To Homecoming

There will be a homecoming at the Bethel Methodist Church, Sunday, June 22. Sunday School will start at 10:00 a.m., preaching service at 11:00, after which there will be dinner on the ground. In the afternoon there will be singing. The public is cordially invited.

FARM EMPLOYMENT UP

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Agriculture Department survey made during the week of May 18-24 showed that farm employment was 14 per cent higher than a month earlier, and 2 per cent higher than a year ago. Increase from late April to May were larger than usual for both farm family workers and hired hands.

Search On For Escaped Murderer

LOUISVILLE (UPI) — A wide search continued in Kentucky and southern Indiana today for Charles R. Rogers, 35, a convicted murderer who escaped from Central State Hospital twice in 11 days.

Hospital authorities said Wednesday that Rogers eluded a guard at the mental institution last Saturday night. He was serving two terms for murder and assault stemming from the slaying of a Shively liquor store operator two years ago.

He and Henry L. Russell were convicted of the June 2, 1956, robbery-slaying of Mrs. Dorothy Beasley. Russell was convicted of the actual slaying in which the woman's throat was slashed, but under Kentucky law Rogers was convicted as being equally guilty for being with him.

Russell still is serving two life terms at the State Penitentiary at Eddyville.

Rogers was brought here from Eddyville last year for treatment of brain damage following a brain hemorrhage. Officers were planning to return him to the maximum security penitentiary when he escaped.

Dr. Walter Fox, superintendent of the hospital, said Rogers made his escape by convincing a young hospital aide that he had to make a telephone call.

The aide, acting against orders, took him to a phone where Rogers told him he "wanted to look for something" and slipped away.

The aide, who was ordered suspended, looked for him for two hours before notifying authorities of the escape.

Rogers escaped earlier June 4 after telling another aide he could find his own way to a patient government meeting. He returned intoxicated after 12 hours.

Fox said mentally ill criminals are allowed to perform supervised duties outside the hospital's maximum security building when they begin to recover as a form of therapy.

He said Rogers had been a "very helpful" inmate and was trusted by the hospital staff.

Son Pinned Up Father Like Animal

STANTON, Ore. (UPI) — An 88-year-old man suffering from malnutrition was reported in fair condition at a hospital here today after being pinned up like an animal by his son.

The son, Daniel George Cole, 60, was arrested on an assault and battery charge and held under $2,500 bail.

Deputy Charles Thornton said he saw the son kick the old man, as he tried to get to his feet, then poured water on him. Thornton said the elderly man screamed for mercy.

Deputies made the arrest Wednesday as they were in the process of investigating earlier complaints from neighbors that a man had been heard screaming.

The officers said the elder Cole's living quarters within the pen consisted of a fifth-laden trailer containing a wood heating stove, a single light bulb and a make-shift bed.

A large spoon was chained to a table for the aged man and he had two officers called an "aluminum dog dish" to eat from.

The younger Cole had been a resident of this mid-Willamette Valley community for more than 20 years and worked as a part-time movie projectionist and gunsmith.

Officers quoted him as saying he kept his father penned up to "discipline" him and make him "take care of himself."

Missing Scientist Turns Up As Groom

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Albert Clark Reed, brilliant government scientist who turned up as a race track groom after a mysterious six-year disappearance, said today that only his love for horses made his "second life" bearable.

"Otherwise," the 51-year old former top secret scientist said, "I've regretted almost every minute since my decision to begin a new life."

During his absence, his wife died of cancer and his son, Timothy, now 12, was adopted.

Although Reed worked at Hollywood Park race track, only a few miles from his family's former home in Pasadena, he knew nothing of his wife and son until traced through security regulations which require all users of the stable area to be fingerprinted.

Reed, who has been going under the name of Alfred Cole Reese, said:

"I'm certainly not proud of what I did. But the terrible thing is that I still can't explain why I did it. It doesn't make sense. It goes against my grain. No, I certainly wouldn't do it again."

The cowboy-garbed ex-scientist, who vanished while working on a top secret project for the government at the California Institute of Technology, said that only his interest in horses soothed the pain of his "wrong decision."

Reed disappeared on July 7, 1952, when he set out from his Pasadena home for a special meeting at Cal Tech.

"I just kept on going," he said.

At the time, it was feared he might have been kidnapped by Communist agents because of his reported pioneering work on atomic weapons.

But, Reed said, "I never know or saw a Communist."

Right now, Reed said, the thing he wants to do most is see his son, who was adopted by a cousin of his late wife, Dudley B. Smith, a patent attorney of Larchmont, N.Y. His lips quivered, Reed said.

"I talked to his new dad today, and he said Timmy's getting interested in college, talking about Cal Tech (where Reed graduated as an honor student in engineering in 1929). He's tops in his class, you know..."

Sunday 22nd. Bro. John Brinn will do the preaching. Everyone is invited.

CHURCHILL AWARDED

PARIS (UPI) - The government of Gen. Charles de Gaulle has awarded Sir Winston Church-hill the French Cross of the Liberation. It was announced Tuesday night. The announcement said the award came "on the occasion of the commemoration of June 18, 1940" - the day
De Gaulle broadcast from London an appeal to defeated France to keep fighting. President Eisenhower and King Mohammad V are the only other foreign chiefs or ex-chiefs of government to hold the medal.

DOWN CONCORD WAY

Sometimes we let the sorrows of the world plunge us into despondency, and it was rightly stated in a paper recently "The year 1958 may be one we want to forget," for it has brought grief to many.

We are sorry for the loved ones of Wilford Smith who ended his life in Michigan.
We often think of the lines of this poem:

"Could we only draw the curtain
That surrounds each others lives,
See the naked heart and spirit,
Know what spur to action
drives,
Often we would find it
better,
Purer than we judge we should."
We would love each other
better.
If we only understood."

Then there are so many hospital rooms filled with suffering
Joe Montgomery and Allan McCluskey both from Concord are spending several weeks in the Murray Hospital.

Mrs. Carrie Bacy has recently undergone surgery in Vanderbilt Hospital, and Mrs. Elizabeth Winchester has been staying with the two daughters, Linda and Carolyn, while the parents were in Nashville.

Another great life history ended when Dr. Rainey T. Wells was called to his reward Sunday.
"In countless gentle, kindly ways"

He lived a sermon all his days,
Believing in the folks he knew
And making friends his life time through.
Now death has set his spirit
free
In fields of immortality
To claim a task of greater worth
Than way he had known on earth."

But since time began, God's plan has been the same. It is appointed unto men once to die, whether young, old, rich or poor,
yet according to Rev. 12-13,
"Their works do follow them."

At least one Buchanan teacher,
Mrs. Barliffe Paschall, and two Concord teachers, Otis Lovins and Ruth Montgomery expect to attend Murray State College this summer.

Mrs. Noble Lovins and sons, Eddie and Danny, expect to return to their home in Michigan soon.

The children of the late Bob McCluskey came home and attended their father's church, Poplar Springs, on Father's Day.

Mrs. Tip Blalock has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Mc-Cluskey and other relatives the past week.

George Bonner's family of Chattanooga spent last week at his and her parents.

If a few more people will build houses around Concord like the one Hubert Pittman is building it won't seem like Concord.
A Nashville boy will be taking one of our sweet little Concord girls, Faye Lax, to a new brick home already bought in Nashville
as their wedding bells will ring,
June 21.

We wish the happy couple life long contentment.

Don Faughn Tops In Little League In Four Departments

Faughn... Lookin' into the first 3 while Faughn's teammate Billy Wilson has the second best pitching record at 3-0. Faughn's only competition for strikeout king is Don Faughn of the Yanks.

Faughn is the leading hitter with a .520 mark, has hit the most home runs with four, has the best pitching record with a 4-0 record, and has struck out the most batters at 43. Its safe to say that Don has been one of the big reasons why the Yanks won the first half championship.

Charlie Warren of the Cards is number two in the batting average department hitting at a .500 clip. Norman Hale of the Cubs is second in homers with 8.

Whatever Happened To

CLIFF MONTGOMERY

By United Press
Cliff Montgomery, a football star at Columbia in the 1930's, figured in one of the Rose Bowl's biggest upsets — Columbia's 1934 victory over rugged Stanford. That was the year the "Laughable Lions" turned back Stanford 7-0 on the sodden turf at Pasadena. Cliff was the quarterback on that team and as a result of his game-winning strategy he was voted honors as the outstanding player in the game.

Whatever happened to Cliff Montgomery? The ex-Lion now is a leading football official. He lives on Long Island and is an official in the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company.

Autoists are then given temporary licenses by the clerk and their permanent license is mailed to them from the Department of Public Safety in Frankfort.

Williams Is Winner In Legion Game

The Murray American Legion team scored 14 runs in the first inning and coasted on to a 19-7 victory over Hickman on the losers field to register their fourth win of the season.

Big Kenny Peak led the 15-hit attack with four triples. Danny Roberts was next in total bases with one of the teams four home runs, a triple and a double. Roy Smith and Tommy McClure helped out with a single and a 4-bagger each. Don Lynch also crashed in a homer.

Murray sent 20 men to bat in the 14-run outburst in the first which included nine hits with six of them going for extra bases. Two of the four home runs were hit in the first.

Hickman came back to scare the Murrayans in the bottom of the first with six tallies but the fire was put out and from then on it was all Murray.

Steve Williams was the winning pitcher for coach Lubie Veal's boys giving up only four hits.

Murray's record stands now at 4-1.

'New' Newcombe Credits Tebbets

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

A beaming "new" Don Newcombe today credited it all to that "old" psychologist — Birdie Tebbets.

Newcombe had that new look in a lot of respects Wednesday night. He was pitching in a Cincinnati uniform for the first time, he was working under Tebbets for the first time and when it was all over, he was a winner for the first time this season following six straight losses with the Dodgers.

Big Newk, traded by the Dodgers last Sunday, did it with a six-hit 6-1 victory over St. Louis but he insisted that Tebbets share his hour of triumph.

The canny Redleg manager made a special trip to the mound after the Cardinals loaded the bases on three successive singles with one out in the ninth.

"Birdie Talks Him Home," I know you... you are going to finish this," Tebbets said. "Take your time... get in an argument if you want to slow down."

Newcombe promptly retired pinch hitters Irv Noren and Hobie Landrith to end the game. "Walt Alston would have had me out of there," said the huge right-hander, who gave up the Cards' only run when Stan Musial tagged him for his 12th homer in the first inning.

Good as Newcombe was for the Redlegs, the Dodgers did some rejoicing of their own over the showing of rookie Stan Williams, who shut out the Phillies, 3-0, on four hits.

Williams out - duelled Robin Roberts for his second victory since being recalled from St. Paul.

The game was marked by a fifth-inning shower of beer cans from Philadelphia fans, who didn't let up until umpire Frank Dascoll threatened to forfeit the game to Los Angeles. The uproar all came about following Joe Pignatano's two-run homer, which some of the fans felt had curved foul. Carl Furillo made the rumpus a purely academic one when he singled home another run in the sixth.

Mays Rode Bench
Whitey Lockman, given a chance to start when Willie Mays was benched for the first time this season, rapped out a 10th inning single to give the Giants a 2-1 win over the Pirates.

Lockman's single sent Bob Friend down to his sixth setback. The winner was Giel.

Eddie Mathews' 14th home run was wiped out when rain caused postponement of the Milwaukee-Chicago game with the Braves ahead, 1-0, in the second inning. The Braves still led the National League by two games.

Casey Stengel's parting message before leaving New York was "Watch our smoke on the road," and the Yankees made him look good by taking their second straight from the Cleveland Indians, 3-2.

Art Ditmar got his first starting assignment of the season and turned it into his first victory. He didn't allow a hit until the sixth when the Indians scored both their runs but Ryne Duren took over in the seventh, retired the last seven men in a row and wrapped it up.

Pappas Wins
Milt Pappas, a 19-year old fastballer, out-pitched 41-year old Murray Dickson in Baltimore's 5-3 triumph over Kansas City.

The A's went ahead with two runs in the first inning—all they ever got off Pappas—but Gus Triandos' 14th homer with one on tied the score in the sixth. Pappas later belted a double that produced the tie-breaking run.

Boston snapped Chicago's four-game winning streak, 13-9, with a 15-hit attack that included homers by Marty Keough, Don Buddin, Jackie Jensen, Frank Malzone and Ted Williams.

Rain washed out the Detroit-Washington game in the fourth inning after the Senators had taken a 3-2 lead with the help of Nell Chrisley's two-run homer.

Re-elected as chairman was Mrs. Ed Frank Kirk, first vice chairman, Mrs. Jerry Scates; second vice chairman, Mrs. Dennis Taylor; secretary, Mrs. Arlo Sprunger; treasurer, Mrs. Dave Hopkins; work call chairman, Mrs. O. B. Boone, Jr.; and Mrs. Gene Landolt; worship chairman, Mrs. Howard Nichols.

Conducting the installation was Mrs. John Pasco, retiring first vice chairman. A devotional talk taken from Proverbs 17 was given by Mrs. Norman Hale. Mrs. Kirk opened the meeting by leading the CWF prayer. Reports were read and Mrs. R. H. Robbins, secretary, read the minutes. Mrs. Hopkins gave the year's financial report.

Closing prayer was led by Mrs. Rupert Parks.

Eva Wall Circle Meets In Home Of Mrs. Alfred Taylor

The Eva Wall Circle of the Memorial Baptist Church met this week at 2:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Alfred Taylor.

Mrs. Taylor opened with the meeting and Mrs. Everett Nanny led in prayer. Mrs. J. W. Shelton was in charge of the program. She read for her devotion from Matthew 7:1-8. A prayer was said by Mrs. Voris Sanderson.

Taking part on the program were Mesdames C. J. Bileley, Crawford Ray, Hugh McElrath and Sanderson. Closing prayer was said by Mrs. T. A. Thacker. The prayer of dismissal was led by Mrs. Taylor.

Nine members and two children were present.

Young Women's Class Meets For Breakfast Program

The Young Women's Class of the First Baptist Church met recently at the Collegiate Grill for a breakfast meeting.

Mrs. Myrtle Wall was the devotional speaker. The class teacher is Mrs. E. C. Jones. Eighteen members attended the breakfast. A guest was Mrs. Tommy Walker of Memphis, Tenn.

Hostesses were Mesdames Howell Thurman, Toy Lanning, Voris Wells, Bill Solomon and C. D. Vinson.

Woodman Circle Has Joint Meet With Junior Grove 9

The Supreme Forest Woodman Circle, Grove 126, and the Junior Grove No. 9 held a joint meeting recently at 7:30 in the evening at the Woman's Club House.

The junior president, Sandra Smith, presided at the meeting. Out-of-town talents featured on the program was a young singer, Billy Wilson, Coldwater, and his sister, Janice. They were accompanied by a brother, Jimmy, at the piano.

Local talents participating were Misses Beth Tuck and Linda Boyd who did a tap and ballet duet.

Miss Sherry Outland reported on a recent trip to Mammoth Cave. The juniors were assisted in their drill work by the state captain, Loretta Culver and Glenda Culver, president of the sorority.

Punch and cookies were served. Miss Ruth Lassiter presided at the punch bowl.

Col. James Bishop Visits Sister Here

Col. James C. Bishop and his family arrived here Wednesday to visit with his sister, Mrs. Jack Frost, and family. They have been stationed in London, England the past three years and returned to the states in time to see their son, James, graduate from West Point.

James, as he is popularly known here where he lived and graduated from Murray High School, has three other children. The daughter, Jeri, completed her freshman year at the University of Kentucky in June. Marjorie, 10, and Robert, 8, have been with their parents in England. The family has been visiting Mrs. Bishop's parents in Lexington the past week.

Mrs. Frost is planning a party next week and including Col. Bishop's school day friends here, and friends of their parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bishop.

ONE YOUNG TRAVELER is ready for summer showers in her lightweight topper made of soft plastic in oyster white.

Ready for the Rain

SNOW WHITE is the color of this smart new raincoat.

A PLASTIC film raincoat comes with detachable hood.

By SUSAN BARDEN

EXPERIENCED travelers have discovered that the raincoat is just about the best kind of topper to take on either long or short journeys.

For Country or Trip

If you are off for a weekend in the country, or are setting out for a long flight to distant places, it's a coat that will see you through the trip and come in very handy after you reach your destination.

The three styles shown here are particularly good for summer and early fall, since they are all very lightweight, easily packable and beautifully fashioned.

There's one in oyster white with an Ivy League striped collar with matching buttons. Another, in snow white, has a black velvet collar and buttons.

Raindrop Pattern

A third is made of three-dimensional plastic film in a raindrop pattern. It has a removable hood and deep patch pockets.

Each coat comes in small, medium and extra large sizes and all have self belts so they can be worn loose or tied at the natural waistline. Boots to keep the feet dry are available in three shades—natural, smoke and black.

Wants To Be First To Reach Moon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A 17-year-old science student told President Eisenhower today he would like to be the first American to ride a rocket to the moon.

The President commented that the moon would be a good place to study, but that he would rather go to Mars or another planet since there's a better chance that life exists there.

The volunteer spaceman was Thomas Hodgson, a senior at Moorestown, N.J. high school. He and Constance Rose, 17, of Charlestown, W. Va., visited the Chief Executive as representatives of 6,500 students who received science awards this year from Bausch & Lomb Optical Co., Rochester, N.Y.

Young Hodgson, who hopes to study mathematics or engineering at Swarthmore University, said Eisenhower laughed when he volunteered for the moon shot. But he added that he was serious.

"I've been interested in the unknown and seeing things no one else has seen or being somewhere no one else has been before," he said. "It may help out defensively or a odd to knowledge."

The President said he would try to help Miss Rose find work in one of the government's atomic energy plants after she graduates.

Miss Rose, who plans to study nuclear physics or chemistry at the West Virginia University and Bryn Mawr, said she wanted to work in a plant like the Oak Ridge, Tenn. installation.

The President gave Constance a fountain pen bearing his name and a silver dollar with the year of his birth, 1890. He gave Thomas a similar pen and pocket knife.

The two youngsters were selected by chance from this year's 6,500 winners.

LONDON (UPI)—James E. Niblock commits his burglaries like clockwork. Police said Niblock confessed breaking into about 120 homes between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. from Monday to Friday, as I never go out stealing on Saturday or Sunday.

LONDON (UPI)—Visitors at an exhibition of Terence Cuneo's paintings looked at a painting of Queen Elizabeth II boarding the royal yacht Britannia for her visit to Denmark last year—and then looked again. On the polished rail, just beside the queen, was a tiny model waving a Danish flag.

LONDON (UPI)—Three hundred helmet badges just issued to Northamptonshire County police will have to be replaced. Someone left the "P" out of Northamptonshire.

SHE ESCAPED FROM YEMEN HAREM—Mrs. Rita Nasir, 25, and her children arrive at Liverpool station, London, happy that their Arabian Nights saga is behind them. To wit: When she was 17 she married Ahmed Nasir, an Arabian electrical engineer, in a Moslem ceremony in Cardiff, Wales. Time went on, and he was offered a job as an instructor in Yemen. Two weeks after they got there, palace guards came and took her to the 68-year-old Yemen king's harem—two wives, 200 concubines. "He was very nice to me," she said. "He gave me lots of fruit and money and we only talked." Finally the family escaped in a truck across the desert to British Aden.

Law Suits Challenge Old Law

By JERRY MANTER
United Press International
HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Five new lawsuits that challenge a 79-year old birth control law have rekindled intense religious and medical arguments in Connecticut.

The Connecticut statute provides a $50 fine or 60 days in jail or both for any person who uses any drug, medicinal article or instrument to prevent conception. The same penalty applies to those who give birth control advice, including doctors. New legal tests against the seldom-enforced measure were started this month in Superior Court at New Haven. All five suits challenge the law's constitutionality.

In one suit, Dr. V. Lee Bustin, chairman of the Yale Medical School's department of obstetrics and gynecology, contends that if he carries out his job he could lose his license to practice medicine.

Bases Suit On Health
Another suit, by a 25-year old housewife, says that because of her poor health, pregnancy "would almost inevitably result in death."

Two couples said that three and four pregnancies respectively ended in health for all infants. One couple said further attempts to raise a family might "result in permanent emotional unbalance."

The fifth suit was filed by a Yale instructor and his wife who said they want to postpone starting a family until "economically able to support children."

Five years ago, the birth control statute was attacked by a group of 14 prominent persons who demanded that the law be enforced. The group told the then Gov. John D. Lodge, "We assume that the Roman Catholic Church, which has steadily opposed any amendment of the law, will cooperate in urging its enforcement."

Gov. Lodge replied that the law would be enforced where guilt could be established. This touched off a flood of mail from persons who had obtained such evidence.

Declines Comment
The governor declined further comment. At the same time, in 1953, the issue was debated in the Legislature, as it is during almost every biennial session. Proponents argued that women have the right to plan their families without having the religious beliefs of others imposed on them. Opponents retorted it would be violating moral laws and one shouted, "where would we be today if Adam and Eve had birth control?"

The legislative proposal which comes up every two years usually doesn't call for outright repeal. It would merely allow physicians to give contraceptive advice to married women whose health might be endangered by pregnancy.

Each time this bill is approved by the House of Representatives, whose majority comes from small Protestant-dominated towns; the measure inevitably is defeated in the Senate, where large Catholic cities prevail. Slightly more than half of the state's population is Catholic and that is the determining factor in keeping the law on the books.

BIRD IS READY

VAN NUYS, Calif. (UPI) — Lockheed's new "Bird" a faster version of the X-7 missile, was ready for the Air Force today a month ahead of schedule. The 37-foot, air-breathing missile will be tested from a B-50 bomb bay at the Air Force's Missile Development Center at Alamogordo, N.M. Lockheed said the missile is equipped with a parachute and a nose spike, enabling it to be recovered and flown again. Each recovery would save $350,000.

SQUIRTS DANCERS
WOLVERHAMPTON, England (UPI) — John Archibald MacQueen was $26 poorer today because he chose to fight rock 'n' roll with a garden hose. He was fined that amount because he broke up a teen-agers' record dance party in the basement of his apartment house by poking a hose through the window and flooding the place. He told the court he thought the candle-lit room was on fire.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI) — The temperature was in the mid-90's here Monday when police were called to a busy street corner where they found a 52-year old man sleeping in the nude. His clothing, neatly folded, lay at his side.

SOME SLIPS DON'T SHOW

By A.A. FAIR (Eric Stanley Gardner)

"I HAVE that strange feeling that Granddad is dead out there in the yard," George Cadott said. "I sure don't want to see him."

"What's up?"

"Everything. I've been trying to get you on the telephone. Minerva got her letter from Granddad that cockeyed mental case in San Francisco, and she put Jarjay on the grid. He cracked me up and started out the whole story. They're going to San Francisco to talk with you."

"When?"

"They left the office about an hour ago."

"What kind of a woman is she?"

"One of the long-suffering kind, patient, sweet, motherly — the kind that always gets the worst of it and doesn't resent it. She picks up his cross and carries on. She never lost her temper in her life."

"Not even when she heard that Barclay had spent the night in Lois Marlow's apartment?"

"You got her wrong," Bertia said. "She isn't angry. She's disillusioned. She has high moral principles. She could never forgive infidelity. If Barclay is telling the truth, that's one thing. But if he has deliberately deceived her, that's something else. She will place the matter in the hands of an attorney."

"How did it happen she got the letter?" I asked. "I thought Barclay was going to intercept it."

"That's what he thought. He bungled it. He would."

"Okay," I said. "I wanted to keep under cover for a while until things blew over. But I guess I'd better get back. I'll be in San Francisco within an hour and a half."

The plane arrived on time. I boarded a limousine, got off at the St. Francis Hotel and walked over to the hotel where I was staying.

Barclay Fisher and his wife were there ahead of me.

Barclay jumped up as I entered the lobby. "There he is! There he is, Minerva," he said. "A rather heavy-set, matronly woman gave me a benevolent smile."

Barclay Fisher performed the introductions. "Minerva, my wife, Mr. Lam. This is Donald Lam, Minerva. I've told you about him. He can tell you exactly what happened."

I went over to the desk and got my key. There were no messages. "Want to come up?" I asked.

They nodded and we all crowded into the rattling elevator. I could have talked a lot better on the mezzanine, but I wanted the extra time to size Minerva up and see the best approach to the situation.

Operation Of Inventory Is Still Plague

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Inventory operations have been listed as one of the big problems of the business recession, and at times they still plague industry.

For a long time the nation has been experiencing far more than it reduced because it was taken off inventories in many times.

The inventories can wreck the biggest of companies if they are not handled for funds to finance them. And big inventories can be a number one headache in general when a recession occurs.

Hence, some of the economic experts have the industrial leaders have learned among other things not to let their inventories get out of control at any time in the future. If they did this the chances of a prolonged recession would be lessened, it is held.

Some industries are turning to air freight to combat inventory problem and also warehousing.

All-Time High
George T. Cussen, vice-president of Flying Tiger Line, noted this in reporting an all-time high in May air freight revenues for his company.

"We know of companies which are now relying on air freight for the first time to get a better control of inventory and warehousing costs," Cussen said.

"One company told us it was experiencing savings which would exceed $250,000 a year" by going down the ones they have.

He finds also that air freight operation reduces distribution costs generally. Cussen notes that the recession forced many a management to take a closer look at all costs, including the high cost of distribution.

The Real Future

He said Flying Tiger Line had decided before the recession that the real future of air freight rested in the industry's ability to sell air freight as a regular distribution arm, and the recession made management more willing to discuss ways of improving distribution.

Companies which are making greater use of air freight to cut inventory operations report no difficulties in keeping their production facilities running. At the same time they save the costs of warehouse space and also the cost of financing inventories.

Then, too, these companies keep their operations flexible at all times with ability to make quick changes to meet new demands.

Operations such as these, however, presuppose that suppliers of raw materials maintain inventories in their warehouses to meet the quick demands of those who use the air to move their material.

Different Problem
What will happen to these firms once business gets to humming and demand rises for raw material is another thing. Many think the recession will tend to keep down future inventories for a long time and hence the future problem of industrial operations may be one of distribution rather than production.

Just now everybody is shying away from piling up inventories and many firms still are working down the ones they have.
